

State Parks and Reservoirs

2005 Special Events

The Division of State Parks and Reservoirs invites you to join us for wildflower hikes, fossil digs, holiday fireworks, music in the outdoors and even a 500 mile bike ride! You, your friends, and your family will find relaxation and fun all year long through our varied programming. This list provides you an overview of events by general topic. If you are interested in history, in-depth natural history programs or weekends, volunteer opportunities, seasonal camping weekends, adventure tours or athletic competitions, educator workshops, "just for fun" activities, outdoor skills training or special activities for kids, this calendar can help you find your favorites. For a complete calendar by month, visit the DNR website at www.dnr.IN.gov.

Most of our activities are for all ages, but some are most appropriate for children or for adults. Some require pre-registration. Gate fees and camping fees are charged at state parks and reservoirs as well. For additional details, event times, the most up-to-date information or a complete schedule of events offered by our interpretive naturalists, contact the property you plan to visit or ask the gate attendant when you arrive. For daily program information, nature brochures and interpretive center hours, visit us on the web at www.interpretiveservices.IN.gov. Enjoy the outdoors at your Indiana State Parks and Reservoirs this year. We look forward to seeing you....OUTSIDE!
